➤ A SHORT PRESENTATION

My name is Scott, and I'm a 29 year old American currently studying Chinese in Taipei after having lived in Beijing for 3.5 years. I have a wide array of interests, but am an engineer at heart. I look at things analytically, am naturally curious, and learn difficult things quickly. I'm the computer nerd with social skills, readily available and not shy to talk to clients. I am also passionate about design and typography. Why don't we work together? See if I have what you need!
